AN OUT-DOOR HORSE SHOW.

PLANS FOR A GREAT EXHIBITION.

WHAT NEW-YORK PEOPLE WILL HAVE A CHANCE

TO SEE AT THE MANHATTAN ATHLETIC CLUB GROUNDS.

Nearly all the arrangements have been made for the open-air horse show which is to be held at the Manhattan Athletic grounds, at One-hundred-and-fifty-fifth-st. and Eighth-ave., in the week beginning May 8, and from the present outlook it promises to be as successful as any of the indoor shows that have taken place at Madison Square Garden. The open-air show is to be given under the auspices of the United States Horse and Cattle Show Society, and although it is the first affair of the kind to take place in this country, there are some experienced managers at the head of the enterprise, and it is said that it will surpass some of the big outdoor shows that have proved so successful in England. As prizes, outside of the special prizes, to the amount of $14,000 have already been offered, and as such men as Thomas T. Eckert, John A. Logan, William L. Lusk, Colonel William Jay, Prescott Lawrence, Thomas H. Terry, James T. Hyde, J. C. Bedford, Redmond W. Terry, James T. Underhill, Hugh J. Grant, William C. Whitney, T. Sutter Tailor, George Green, Rush S. Jinks, Eugene Higgins, General Wylie, B. F. Clyde, Theodore A. Havemeyer, John R. Townsend, H. K. Bloodgood, Charles P. O. Beach, O. W. Bird, E. C. L. Montague, Jr., J. G. Cheever, F. Gebhard, H. De Courcy Forbes, W. G. Tiffany, L. J. Lee Talley, J. E. Murphy, and many others are interested in the show, its success, the managers say, is already assured. The Manhattan Athletic grounds have been leased for a term of years by the Horse and Cattle Show Society, and it is the intention of the organization to hold one or more shows there each year, with the object of improving the breed of all classes of horses, cattle, sheep, etc., and also to encourage the development of animal industry.

The outdoor horse show is the first one the society will make of the Manhattan grounds, and permanent stables for the accommodation of horses, and all animals to be exhibited will be erected there. The managers of the show say that a more admirable place could not have been selected for the purpose for which it is to be used. There is a quarter of a mile track surrounding a grass field, on which will be erected fences similar to those met with on the hunting field. The extent of the track will enable trotters, saddle, carriage and other horses to show their action and best paces.

A clubhouse with covered stands capable of accommodating 20,000 visitors has been erected, and from the stands a good view of every part of the grounds can be obtained.

The coaching interests at the outdoor show will be well taken care of, as they will be represented by Colonel William Jay, Prescott Lawrence, Redmond W. Terry, Theodore A. Havemeyer, W. G. Tiffany, and many others. The New-York Coaching Club has offered prizes for four-in-hands, and it is proposed to raise the standard of coaching by competitions. The New-York Tandem Club has offered prizes to be driven by amateurs. The annual meet of the Coaching Club will be held May 14, and the club will drive in a body to the Manhattan grounds, where space will be reserved for them.

The hunting classes will be represented by the masters of the leading packs, and it is expected that one of the great features of the show will be the competition for prizes offered for the master and servants and ten couples of hounds, turning out in the best form, the masters and servants to wear the colors of their club. Among the subscribers to this class of the show are H. L. Herbert, F. Gray Griswold, S. N. Howard, John E. Cowdin, Charles D. Freeman and F. B. Clyde. On account of the fences which will be put up on the grounds, the hunting classes will be shown to a great advantage.

A special feature of the show will be the competition between the hackneys. The best now owned in America will be on hand. Several large importations have been made recently, and with the special view of exhibiting them at the coming show. Large entries of hackneys will be made by George Green, H. K. Bloodgood, C. E. Weinstein, John A. Logan, Prescott Lawrence, W. Seward Webb, A. J. Cassatt and large breeders.

The stallion entries will contain some of the thoroughbreds, as space has already been reserved for such stallions as Matchless, Londoner, Brown Fashion, Star of Nepal, Brown Lover, Realization, Glendale, Souther and Little Wonder. Other famous stallions will also compete.

The trotting men are taking special interest in the show, as the quarter-mile track will permit the riders to extend themselves and show their proper form. Entries of trotting horses will be made from the stables of the owners, C. J. Hamlin and many other well-known owners.

Special prizes will be offered for the best equipped and best drilled company of cavalry, and the best squad of drilled city and park mounted police. The latter will be a great feature if proper arrangements can be made, the managers say.

A meeting of the directors of the Horse and Cattle Show Society was held at the offices of the association at No. 1,155 Broadway yesterday, and after the gathering adjourned it was said that before another week had gone by all arrangements for the big outdoor show would be complete. The following, which appears in the programme just issued, gives an idea of how the show will be conducted:

The rules and regulations have been worded with a view to protect exhibitors and give them all necessary information. The judges will be appointed by the board of managers, and only such will be selected as are thoroughly experienced and competent. No director or officer of the society will act as a judge.

The society is not offering extravagant prizes, but the entrance fees and charges for stalls and boxes are moderate, and the awards of the judges will greatly enhance the value of animals successfully competing, and will be recognized as an evidence of merit duly bestowed and honorably won in open competition, and as such possess a value exceeding that of the actual money prize.

In fixing the date for holding the show, the 9th to the 14th of May, the directors have not only considered the comfort of exhibitors and visitors, but the weather and the appearance of the horses, as at that season of the year the weather may be expected, and the animals' coats will be glossy, and they will show to their best advantage.

The society has already been offered such cordial support and so many entries of the best horses in the country that the exhibition cannot fail to be most highly interesting, and its success is assured.

Horses entered as hunters must have been hunted regularly, at least one season, and when required, the exhibitor must furnish a certificate to that effect from the number of the hounds with whom he has hunted. Horses entered as suitable for making hunters must not have been hunted regularly with any pack of hounds.

All horses entered in the hackney classes must be registered in the American or English Hackney stud book, and their pedigrees and registered numbers must be given on the entry form. The following is a description of the fences over which horses entered as hunters will have to be ridden and carry a minimum weight of 140 pounds. The committee may, however, alter the jumps, or make such other changes as they may consider desirable: Jump No. 1.—Brushed hurdle, not less than 3 feet 6 inches high; No. 2.—single fence, 4 feet 6 inches high; No. 3.—post and rails, in and out, 4 feet high; No. 4.—stone wall, 4 feet high; No. 5.—board fence, 4 feet 6 inches high; No. 6.—post and rails, 5 feet high. The following is a description of the jumps over which horses entered as "suitable for making hunters," and ponies, will have to be ridden and carry a minimum weight of 140 pounds. The committee may, however, alter the jumps, or make such other changes as they may consider desirable: Brushed hurdle, not less than 3 feet 6 inches high; No. 2.—single fence, 4 feet high; No. 3.—post and rails, in and out, 4 feet high; No. 4.—stone wall, 4 feet high; No. 5.—board fence, 4 feet high; No. 6.—post and rails, 4 feet 6 inches high.

In judging the champion class, the horses will be subject to final oral over fences as the judges may consider necessary to determine their qualifications.

LA TOURAINE'S REMARKABLE PASSAGE.

SHE LOWERS THE RECORD FROM HAVRE-TRANS-ATLANTIC TRAVELLERS.

The French steamship La Touraine arrived here yesterday from Havre after a run of 6 days, 23 hours, 30 minutes. This is the best time that has been made between this port and Havre. The best previous time made was by the same ship last year when she brought the record down to 7 days, 4 hours. La Touraine has been up all winter and is in her first voyage of the season. She averaged 10.11 knots an hour on this trip and travelled 3,711 miles. Her best day's run was 464 miles, she had fair weather and variable winds at the beginning of the voyage. From the Grand Banks she had strong southwest winds and heavy seas for twelve hours, after which she had fair weather to port. She had little fog and no ice. The steamer burned on the trip an average of 245 tons of coal a day. Her score made an average of seventy-four revolutions a minute. She carried fifty-six cabin passengers, twenty-four second class passengers and 575 stowage passengers. Among the passengers on La Touraine were Dr. Arany, Paul van den Abele, Jose Alfonso, the Baron de Batz, Georges Berden, Leone Bossi, W. E. Jagers, C. Koenig, W. C. Kline, Robert M.
